

Wine time: Lazy Creek Vineyards '15 Rose of Pinot Noir

Posted on June 3, 2016 by Sarah Stierch

Lazy Creek Vineyards 2015 Anderson Valley Rosé retails for $22

The Lazy Creek Vineyards 2015 Anderson Valley Rosé is a pleasant rose chock full of juicy fruit for a hot spring/summer day from.

This wine is made from 100% Pinot Noir produced in Anderson Valley. The wine is sustainably farmed and the grapes were cold-soaked for six hours with their skins on, creating a lovely deep pink-orange color.

This rosé is juicy, yet dry, with a heavy bouquet full of strawberry, rose water and cream. The taste reflects the nose, with a juicy palette of strawberry and cream that makes this a perfect liquid supplement when strawberry season is over.

A nice rosé to please wine drinkers with full and lush fruit forward wine palettes. Serve with brunch, turkey sandwiches at lunch, or with a mild goat cheese at a picnic.

The Lazy Creek Vineyards 2015 Anderson Valley Rosé retails for $22. lazycreekvineyards.com

<http://sonomasun.com/2016/06/03/wine-time-lazy-creek-vineyards-15-rose-of-pinot-noir/>